ASNR 55th ANNUAL MEETING &
THE FOUNDATION OF THE ASNR SYMPOSIUM 2017

APRIL 22-27, 2017 • LONG BEACH, CALIFORNIA
Long Beach Convention & Entertainment Center
DEAR ASNR MEMBERS, VISITORS, AND NEUROSCIENCE COLLEAGUES:

It is my pleasure to invite you to the ASNR 55th Annual Meeting in the beautiful waterfront city of Long Beach, California from April 22 – 27, 2017. A spectacular Symposium and Annual Meeting have been planned at the Long Beach Convention and Entertainment Center. Long Beach provides the hustle and bustle of an active city along with quaint, sophisticated restaurants and tourist attractions such as The Aquarium of the Pacific and the retired “Grand Dame” cruise ship, The Queen Mary.

ASNR is delighted to provide a “4D” focus for these programs. The Foundation of the ASNR Symposium 2017 held April 22 – 23 will focus on Discovery and Didactics, containing “What’s New?” in the role neuroimaging plays defining CNS disease mechanisms and how to prepare for “What’s Next?” for our subspecialty in terms of training, teaching, and leading the process of lifelong learning. Expert faculty will reveal new advanced imaging techniques, a look into the future of cerebrovascular treatment and training, and machine learning. The Symposium will also feature a point-counterpoint discussion on post-processing of fMRI data. Academic and Private Practice physicians will present and debate alternatives for overnight coverage of neuroradiology reads, and specific impact on resident training.

The 55th Annual Meeting will continue from April 24 – 27, with a focus on Diagnosis and Delivery, how to keep up with the constant changes of healthcare reform, maintaining quality, considering cost, and teaching best practices. The Annual Meeting will provide informative updates on general Neuroradiology and showcase specialty programming from the ASFNR, ASHNR, ASPNR, ASSR, and SNIS. The heart of the meeting will be invited lectures, original presentations, scientific posters, parallel paper sessions, and educational exhibits. Finally, I am delighted to introduce special sessions including ASNR Past Presidents and, ”Meet the new CEO of ASNR” effective as of November 1, 2016.

There will be approximately 43.50 hours of continuing medical education credit available, including eleven (11) Self-Assessment Module (SAM) Sessions. We will again feature valuable, non CME “How-To-Sessions” sponsored by our commercial partners, updating you on the capabilities and use of their hardware and software. Turbo Talks will also be enhanced for the second year, as brief, oral presentations followed by an in-depth electronic poster tour by the authors.

Among its most valuable functions, the Annual Meeting allows attendees to immerse themselves in innovative brain, spine, and head and neck imaging while connecting with over 1,700 fellow physicians, exhibitors, keynote speakers, and most importantly, friends! Please visit the ASNR 2017 Annual Meeting website, where new information is constantly being added. I look forward to an exciting meeting, and extending a warm welcome to you in Long Beach, California!

ASNR STUDY GROUPS

Study Groups target areas of critical importance to the field of Neuroradiology and are composed of neuroradiologists, neuroscientists, and investigators from associated disciplines, who are united in their interest in higher level, sophisticated investigations of these target areas. These sessions will be offered during the Annual Meeting. They are open to all attendees on a first-come, first-serve basis. No CME credit will be awarded for these sessions.

CLINICAL TRANSLATION OF FUNCTIONAL DIFFUSION MRI STUDY GROUP
Monday, April 24, 2017 | 5:00pm – 6:30pm

The ASNR Study Group for the Clinical Translation of Functional and Diffusion MRI represents an international multidisciplinary endeavor to identify critical knowledge gaps that must be addressed to translate these advanced neuroimaging techniques into sensitive/specific clinical tools for the diagnosis of diseases affecting the brain. The Study Group is comprised of representatives from neuroradiology, neurology, neurosurgery, psychiatry, pediatrics, and the neurosciences, thereby leveraging a broad interdisciplinary perspective to develop a strategic framework of key action items to address these knowledge gaps. To this end, the Study Group has been organized to focus on two primary aims: 1) To investigate the reproducibility of functional and advanced diffusion MRI techniques, which is necessary for translation of these methods into robust diagnostic imaging tools, and 2) To review and disseminate the current evidence to date supporting the use of functional and advanced diffusion MRI methods in clinical practice. Additional manuscripts are being developed to review the methodological breadth of advanced diffusion imaging, as well as the evidence supporting the clinical use of functional and advanced diffusion imaging techniques, as applied to a variety of clinical entities (e.g., psychiatric disease, preterm birth, brain tumors, multiple sclerosis, etc).

INTRACRANIAL AND CERVICAL VESSEL WALL IMAGING STUDY GROUP
Tuesday, April 25, 2017 | 5:00pm – 6:30pm

With the recent success of high-resolution cervical vessel wall imaging for defining stroke risk beyond that achievable by angiography, the Study Group has now turned its attention to the intracranial vessel wall, a new frontier in neurovascular imaging. Recognizing this, the ASNR has supported the formation of the Intracranial and Cervical Vessel Wall Imaging Study Group mandated to take a leading role in advancing both clinical applications and research in this new and growing field. The Study Group is composed of a multidisciplinary team organized to develop methodologies and share clinical expertise for redefining knowledge of both cervical and intracranial vasculopathies. Its primary goals are to establish uniform imaging protocols, promote multi-institutional research, and develop educational programs and materials. The group offers a variety of opportunities for making seminal and impactful contributions in this field.

IMAGING GENOMICS STUDY GROUP
Wednesday, April 26, 2017 | 5:00pm – 6:30pm

The ASNR Imaging Genomics Study Group serves as a unified voice and body for advancing the clinical and research applications of imaging genomics. For this mission the Study Group is working on the development and validation of imaging genomics biomarkers and biomarker signatures. The Study Group seeks to pool genomic data from multicenter image-guided tumor biopsies in combination with quantitative data from anatomic and physiologic MR. Imaging genomics correlates and investigates the relationship between imaging features of tumors and metabolomic and proteomic expression data to form the most complete imaging-molecular data analysis possible. The Study Group is also focusing on the need for standardization of imaging across vendors, software platforms, post-processing techniques, etc., and on enhancing awareness and multidisciplinary collaboration among the imaging and non-imaging communities to advance imaging genomic paradigms within these fields. The Study Group has finalized for publication the ASNR Imaging Genomics White Paper exploring the current state and future directions of imaging genomics in brain tumors.
The IHIWG (International Hydrocephalus Imaging Working Group) consists of neuroradiologists, neurologists, neurosurgeons, bioengineers, and basic scientists who meet twice a year in conjunction with ASNR and the ISHCSF (International Society for Hydrocephalus and CSF Disorders). The meeting will address all forms of hydrocephalus with emphasis on imaging NPH, including phase contrast techniques to measure aqueductal CSF flow, DESH (Disproportionately Enlarged Subarachnoid Space Hydrocephalus), and TimeSLIP to predict response to shunting. Additionally, the Study Group compares these noninvasive MR-based techniques to the more invasive intracranial pressure monitoring, saline infusion, high-volume tap test and external lumbar drainage. CSF production and resorption, role of aquaporins, and CSF flow measurements to study Chiari I malformations as well as potential sources of error in measurements are reviewed. Recent meetings have had focused sessions on MRI measurement of connectivity, tractography, elastography and evolving concepts such as the “glymphatic system” and the VIIP (Visual Impairment and Intracranial Pressure) syndrome experienced by astronauts spending time on the space station.

Infantile hydrocephalus and benign external hydrocephalus and the role of the latter as a potential cause of NPH later in life are discussed, in addition to examining changes in DTI and MR elastography in NPH and discuss related topics such as aqueductal stenosis and pseudotumor cerebri.

To learn more about the IHIWG’s mission, members, and previous meetings, please visit www.ihiwg.org.

Additional registration fees will apply for the IHIWG/CSF Flow Group. If you are interested in more details about the IHIWG/CSF Flow Group, please visit 2017.asnr.org.

ADVANCE HOUSING DEPOSIT

WHY IS IT REQUIRED?
ASNR has incurred attrition charges for rooms in our hotel block where reservations were cancelled or “no-shows” at the last minute at several of our recent annual meetings. This is not a small amount of money. ASNR is charged the room rate plus tax for every room below our contracted numbers. As a part of ASNR’s plan for eliminating attrition, the Advanced Housing Deposit policy was implemented in 2002 along with review of all future hotel contracts, reductions in the contracted hotel room blocks to better reflect current use patterns, and weekly monitoring of hotel reservations for the current year’s meeting.

This plan has been successful in helping ASNR limit the financial burden resulting from high attrition fees. The amount of the last-minute cancellations and no-shows has decreased significantly in recent years. As a result, the amount of attrition fees charged to ASNR has also decreased. The forfeited funds resulting from the Advanced Housing Deposit policy has enabled ASNR to pay incurred attrition fees.

If you should have any questions concerning these policies in effect for the ASNR 55th Annual Meeting, please contact:
